Students Suggest Auto Changes

A combined student-administration panel discussion on car rules Sunday afternoon at Gate Theatre led to several suggestions by students for changes in existing regulations.

Harold Jacobson and Sashi Saran collaborated in presenting a well-received plan which would (1) allow any student to have a car on campus if it was properly registered, (2) enforce the campus speed limit of 15 miles per hour, (3) prevent student driving on campus from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, (4) prohibit driving under the influence of alcohol, (5) require that cars be insured, (6) allow women students to ride in autos with parent's permission, (7) allow women students going out of town to sign out at their houses instead of at the Dean of Women's office, (8) conduct a student survey to determine who would have cars on campus if regulations were lifted, (9) give Student Court authority to deal with infractions, and (10) provide for a review of rules after one semester.

Other Changes Suggested

Darl Ault suggested a charge for parking facilities to help finance the cost of providing increased parking space. Richard Daley questioned that present parking facilities were fully used while Joe Zingale advocated off-campus parking for student autos. William Bittner cited existing regulations and their effect on enrollment and Walter Hoy called for relaxed rules on the student use of cars.

The open discussion followed short talks by the panel composed of F. Eugene Beatty, assistant to the president; Mrs. Florence Currier, Dean of Women; Jane Winfield, senior women's representative; Marion Long, freshman women's representative; and Earl Nissen, representative of Omicron Delta Kappa, men's leadership society, sponsors of the event. Dean of Students Arch B. Conklin and Trustee Alva W. Bachman, also scheduled to appear on the panel, were unable to attend. Lamont Greene served as moderator.

Background Explained

Mr. Beatty opened by explaining the background of events which led to the adoption of car rules in 1949. He cited the congestion which prevailed when 2,200 autos competed for 433 available parking facilities, the increasing number of auto accidents (21 students injured in one week), and the social misuse of car rights. He also explained the exceptions in car rules which allowed for disabled and married students and later elaborated on the city traffic problem which would result from off-campus parking.

Dean Currier lauded student cooperation in administering car rules when they were first issued and pointed out the interpretation of the rules in the Women's Handbook along with the social and business exceptions which are allowed.

Miss Winfield reviewed the confined student life brought about by existing regulations and advocated continuation of the trend toward leniency which has been shown since the rules went into effect.

Repeal Advocated

Miss Long advocated repeal of the present restrictions on the basis of talks with 75 freshman women from Kohl Hall. Of these, 73 per cent favored removal of all auto regulations, 24 per cent advocated removal of regulations on week ends while the remaining 3 per cent were satisfied with the existing restrictions.

Nissen reviewed the system briefly as he found it during his four-year stay here.

The forum was the first in a series of programs planned by ODK for this semester. It was emphasized that the views expressed by the students will be presented to the Council on Student Affairs which is currently studying auto regulations but will not necessarily affect any decisions made by that body.

In Our Opinion

Forum Finds Function

Others may choose Communism, but we'll take democracy, especially if it can be as lively at times as Sunday's forum on existing car regulations. Omicron Delta Kappa sponsored an event which is worthy of the highest recognition. It illustrates that in a country such as this, intelligent debate, filled with direct and active questions, is a common reality.

Car rules were explained and then tossed out to the standing-room-only crowd for discussion. Practically every aspect of the problem was brought to light, including parking complications, dating problems in relation to cars, and decreased enrollment due to existing rules.

The discussion was orderly and well-handled. It represented the intelligent thinking of many students and those of the administration who come in contact with the situation daily.

There is a question which appeared out of context at the meeting which should be given more emphasis, however. A member of the audience asked, "Why wasn't this problem and the ensuing discussion brought up before Student Senate?"

Surely Senate is not so antiquated a body, bound by so much authoritarianism, that it cannot deal with a problem which is now uppermost in the minds of the students which abide by its decisions. Senate can investigate automobile regulations and other current campus problems—if it is given a chance by students. That is, students who have the foresight to contact their Senate representative so that a matter may be initiated into possible legislation.

This is not to begrudge ODK of its excellent proposed program of campus forums. It is to reiterate the time-honored expression that a representative body is only as strong as the people who support it. Senate is stronger this year than it has been in many past semesters. It can be made more effective if it is offered some decent, meaty problems to solve.

Greene Success As IFC Head, ODK Member

LAMONT GREENE

By MARILYN SMITH

Lamont Greene, better known as "Monty," has successfully combined extra-curricular activities and his academic curriculum to become one of Bowling Green's campus leaders.

A senior in the College of Liberal Arts, "Monty" is majoring in radio speech, with a journalism minor. His major academic course includes such subjects as background courses in current history, and directing.

He is also enrolled in a journalism seminar, which deals with current news analysis.

One of his outstanding activities is being president of the Interfraternity Council. In addition to this, "Monty" is the treasurer of Omicron Delta Kappa, a member of the Council of Student Affairs. As part of his required work in journalism, he edits copy on the B-G News once a week. More of his time is spent in Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity activities and as student production manager in radio, in which he assists Prof. Sidney Stone in setting up the program log for WBGU.

In 1949, "Monty" came to BGSU from Sandusky to enroll as a freshman. He joined Workshop Players and worked in radio activities. In the second semester of his sophomore year, he pledged PiKA and acted as chief engineer of the radio station.

When "Monty" was elected president of the junior class, and was chosen to represent his fraternity on the IFC, he became busier than ever. He was also student program director at the radio station, and was elected to membership in ODK during the spring of his junior year.

By his office as president of IFC, "Monty" was entitled to membership on the Council of Student Affairs, which is now studying the car rule situation. He also became active in ODK while he was a senior.

In June, "Monty" will graduate with a BA degree in Liberal Arts. After graduation and the eventuality of army service, "Monty" has a job as staff announcer at WLEC, Sandusky's radio station.

APhiO Book Store To Pay Students $1,300 For Books

A $2,850 business this semester, and a promise of bigger things to come is the cry of Bowling Green's Alpha Phi Omega Book Store.

On campus since 1949, the book store, which handles only used books, is now under the supervision of Ray Bertelsen, who has had the job for the last three semesters. Next semester Gene Pettit will take over.

Rebuilt last semester by Ray and the APhiO pledges, the book store is now double its original size. This semester alone, 1,450 books were turned in, and only $1,200 worth remain to be sold. They also have some 300 obsolete books, which owners may re-claim if they want the books.

To Open Again in Three Weeks

In three weeks the book store will again be open, and special notices will be sent to students who have money coming to them. There is a total of $1,300 yet to be paid out to students. Also at the end of each semester, checks are sent to those who have not claimed their money.

The book store is sponsored by the Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, and is its only money-making project. A yearly profit of approximately 10 per cent is made by APhiO. Another activity of the fraternity is running the coat check at dances. Profits of this enterprise go into the student loan fund, another function of APhiO, which lends students up to $65 without interest. Also, APhiO conducts the spring "Keep-off-the-grass" campaign, building the signs which adorn the campus lawn. The ugly man and woman contest is also sponsored for charity.

"Students who have been complaining that the book store is never open when it is supposed to be, should realize that we are students, too," says Ray. "We ask them to please bear with us because the book store is continually growing and the system of operation is improving. By next semester, the students will have the best service possible."

'Grass' Campaign Now In Progress

APhiO's annual keep-off-the-grass campaign started yesterday, and with proper cooperation from all students, Bowling Green will be!

New, cleverly-rhymed sayings will be posted at danger spots around the campus, as a reminder to students that this is serious business. Failure to comply with these signs will result in a $1 fine administered by the University Police.

James Hersh of APhiO is chairman of the campaign.

Scholarship seems to have been shut up in the closet at one of the upperclass women's dorms. Or at least a trophy recognizing it has been stored away. The Sigma Chi scholarship trophy, awarded to the fraternity with the greatest point average improvement for the previous two semesters, was carried into its present hiding place by a feminine admirer of a fraternity pledge.

"Hey ma, there's a trophy in my closet!"

SAEs Cop Title For League Two

Sigma Alpha Epsilon clinched first place in League II of fraternity basketball last Wednesday night by defeating Phi Delta Theta 27-25. Phi Delta Theta, led by Thorai Mitchell who netted eight points, got off to a fast start in the game and at half time held what seemed to be a commanding lead, 18-9.

In the second half Sigma Alpha Epsilon got organized and came bounding back to win the game in a fast finish. Jim Burkett and Bill VanWyck were largely responsible for the second half comeback that won the game. They scored seven and six points respectively.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon will now meet Sigma Chi, the winner of League I, for the fraternity championship Thursday, March 19.

The three league winners in independent basketball were the Wild Cats, Garden Staters, and Wildmen. These teams will meet in a round robin tournament this week to decide the championship. The winner will face the fraternity champion for the all-campus championship sometime next week.

$271.95 Collected In Scout Drive

Results of the University fund-raising drive for the Boy Scouts of America were announced by Dr. Galen Stutsman, chairman. A total of $271.95 was collected from the University faculty and employees.

The Toledo Area Council, headquarters for the Northwestern area, has a goal of $30,000. The Toledo Community Chest has appropriated $20,000 and the remaining $10,000 has to be collected through fund drives in the cities and towns in the areas that do not have a Community Chest program.

On the campus, Dr. Stutsman appointed members of the faculty in each of the buildings to head the collecting of contributions from each department in the building.

Book Reviewed By Prof. Longworth

"You and Your Aging Parents" was the book reviewed by Dr. Donald S. Longworth, assistant professor of sociology, in the February "Journal of Marriage and Family Living."

Dr. Longworth stated that the book is different because it is written for the layman with the idea of children adjusting to their parents instead of vice versa.

LETTERS To The Editor

Dear Editor:

This past week I received word that Rebel, fraternity mascot, died. It seems to me that this campus personality should have an obituary in the paper he so regularly chewed up as a pup.

Rebel's initiation into the fraternity came when Jim Ayers spotted him in a pet show window. He brought the dog to the house where the brothers immediately formed a Dog Corporation so the beagle could be kept. An election was held in order to choose a name.

Voting stock was sold for $1 a share; non-voting stock was $.50 a share. The name Rebel was chosen, and the money was to be used for license, flea powder, and worm medicine.

The first night at the house, Rebel took up an immediate friendship with the neighbor's female cocker spaniel. As Don Coon said, "That dog has got to stay. He's a real SAE."

Rebel immediately won friends, especially with the sororities. He attended classes regularly, and it is rumored that he was to have received an honorary degree in forestry in June providing certain credit requirements could be waived.

This is an inopportune time to relate the many stories about Rebel. However, I do feel the B-G News can and should afford some recognition to a beagle that was a unique personality in the house at 410 S. Main and on the campus of Bowling Green State University.

Falcon Nators Capture 2nd At MAC Meet Ohio U Avenges Meet Loss To BG

The Falcon swimmers made a strong showing and a late rush, but fell short of becoming MAC champions as they placed second to Ohio U 125-111 at the MAC championships held at Miami University. The final tallies on the meet were Ohio U, 125; Bowling Green, 111; Miami U, 54; Kent State, 45.

Bowling Green made a strong challenge in the final events to the Ohio U Bobcats, who led all the way, but the lack of diving support proved the Falcons' downfall.

Regardless of the loss the meet still proved fruitful to the aquamen as they carried home with them six new MAC records. Three of these belong to Herb Scogg, two to John Bruce, and one to a 300-yard medley relay team of Paul Dressel, John Bruce, and Ed Levy.

Herb Scogg, the outstanding swimmer in the meet, set records in the 150 individual medley relay, the 200-yard backstroke in 2:26, and the 100-yard backstroke, setting a new varsity record as well as an MAC record at 1:37.7. Herb Scogg grabbed off 21 points and became the high scorer of the meet.

Bruce Breaks Records

John Bruce, another of the strongholds in final thrust, garnered two new MAC records. The BG breaststroker churned to a 2:30.6 win in the 200-yard breaststroke, and carted off the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:03.7, his best time of the season. Bruce was also a member of the 300-yard medley relay team responsible for one of BG's six records.

Glen Romanek, OU swimmer, who was such a menace to the Falcons in the BG-OU meet, was there again to hinder the Orange and Brown cause. Romanek won two events and swam anchor man for the Bobcats on their 400-yard medley relay team.

A big surprise in the meet was the swimming of Paul Dressel, a sophomore, capturing a second spot in the 100-yard backstroke, and a second place in the 200-yard. Dressel too, was a member of the Falcons' record-smashing relay team. In a statement made by Coach Sam Cooper, "Paul is one of the most improved swimmers in the MAC this season."

OU Edges Falcons

During the course of the three-day meet there were three close decisions involving Ohio U and BG. In the handing down of the decisions of these events, OU came out on top all three times, thus proving the closeness of the meet.

Fred Gerbing and George Ensign also came through with some of their best swimming. Gerbing collected two seconds and a third while Ensign turned in his best time of the season in the 200-yard backstroke. The Falcons traveled with 12 men to Miami U and the MAC meet and 11 of them placed in the finals held on Saturday.

Sam Cooper stated, "I am well pleased with the team's performance, sportsmanship and general conduct at the MAC meet." Next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday the Falcons will play host to 19 colleges from the mid-west in the Central Collegiate Conference meet in the BG Natatorium.

Diamond Talent Short

Though there are no pitchers with previous varsity experience, Warren Stellar, Falcon baseball coach, says that this year's squad has good material.

There are 33 candidates, including 8 lettermen, on the roster so far. Twelve prospective pitchers are working out.

The Falcons start their season in April.

Bianchi Ties All Time Point Mark

With the conclusion of basketball season, it is now time to enter the 1952-53 Falcon marks and averages into the record book, and although the season's record was not too impressive many new records were established.

BG's scoring ace Al Bianchi dumped in 596 for the season, enough to more than double the second place point-maker, George Reis, who tallied 281 points, as well as tie the University's all-time scoring record set by Charlie Share in 1950.

Bianchi naturally had the best scoring average on the team, averaging 22.1 points for the 27 encounters in which the BG cage-men participated. And in the last game of the season, he set a BG floor record when he dumped in 40 points, one tally over the previous high.

Sets Tournament Mark

Rounding out the records set by the New York flash was the record he set over the Christmas holiday at the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City. In a game against Tulsa, Al scored 33 points, a new single game high for that tournament.

Spunky little Bill Rogers, BG's "Mr. Floorman," had the best field goal shooting average on the squad as he ended the season with a sizzling .413 average, connecting on 38 of 92 attempts.

In the free throw department, another fine guard, Lou Drago, capped the honors, connecting on 71 out of 103 charity attempts for a .689 percentage. These scoring records included only those players who participated in 25 games or more.

One peculiar record held by the Falcons, who won only 12 of 27 games, is that they averaged better than their opponents both from the floor and the free throw line.

The locals averaged .671 from the charity line as compared to the .619 average established by their foes, and they hit on .350 per cent of their shots from the floor while the opposition connected on .323 average. The locals were outscored, however, for the season 1,967 to 1,964.

Win Four in Row

The longest winning streak run by the BG quintet was on a four game stretch when they dumped Detroit, Western Ontario, Toledo, and John Carroll. They suffered their longest losing streak over the Christmas holidays when they suffered seven straight setbacks.

The worst defeats suffered by the locals were handed to them by Duquesne and Miami (Ohio) both of whom beat them by 29 point margins. The Duquesne score was 92 to 63 and the Miami tussel ended up 90 to 71.

Blasted Hillsdale

BG's biggest victory margin came over Hillsdale when they blasted the Michigan squad 92 to 48 in the second game of the season.

One last interesting sidelight on the season's cage wars is that six of the teams that the locals met this year are entered in the two big post-season tournaments, the National Invitational Tournament, and the National Collegiate Athletic Association Tournament.

These squads are Niagara, Duquesne, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Miami (Ohio), and Western Kentucky.

Falcon Females Beat Heidelberg Sextet

Jo Case is shown shooting a jump shot in the Bowling Green-Heidelberg game Saturday. The feminine Falcons trounced the Heidelberg cagers 38-26. Case was high with 13 points and Ann Spieldenner garnered 8 markers. BG freshman girls humiliated the BG High School seniors 42-11 in a second game. In that game Carol Krohne and Bonnie Traxler were the Orange and Brown standouts.

Bowling Green Plays Host To 19 Swimming Teams

By DICK BUDD

Bowling Green will again be the scene, this week end, of the Central Collegiate Conference swimming meet in which 19 mid-western teams will participate.

Ohio University and Beloit of Illinois will be the favorites while the Falcons will be the defending champions. The Falcons were able to overcome the Ohio U Bobcats earlier this season in a dual meet, but placed second to them in the MAC meet. The aquamen also lost to Beloit in one of the first losses of the season but have greatly improved since that time.

The CCC is one of the top championship swimming meets in the mid-west. It was organized eleven years ago and for seven years it was sponsored by Michigan State. After Michigan State's acceptance into the Big Ten the sponsorship of the CCC was moved to Bowling Green where it has remained for the past three years.

Michigan State has held the championship for eight years and the Falcons for the past two years. The question is, can the mermen

News Guest Issue Liked By Students

"What did you think of the March 10 issue of the B-G News?" Some students gave their opinion in answer to this question. This issue was the one written in large part by faculty members.

Shirley Gibson—"I thought it was unusually interesting, and I liked the size of it."

Beverly Fulton—"The News was terrific! It was a boost for student-professor relationship, too."

Dolores Sheenan—"It didn't live up to my expectations. The pictorial section was clever, but the rest of the paper was just average."

Shirley Brown—"I didn't find anything extra special about it. The build-up of the previous week made me expect something wonderful, and I was disappointed."

Leila Johnson—"The paper was very good. The size and content were unusually good, and the jokes were unusually funny."

Margaret Lyndon—"I thought it was excellent. It made me feel as if I really knew the professors because it contained personal material."

Sue Souder—"I approved of it; I got tired of the same old thing. The special issue of the paper was different and refreshing."

Carolyn Whyte—"Swell! Put out another paper like it sometime soon."

Pledges Walk Off With Shoes, Leave Actives Barefooted

By NANCY CRALL

"Stop, look, and see the news. The ZBTs ain't got no shoes!" This sign on the Nest explained the strange foot attire of the ZBTs last week when their pledges literally walked off with every shoe in the house. The actives were forced to wear their shower-clogs to class all day.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated by the ChiOs, who entertained their dates with a dance in their "Blarney Stone Castle;" the Alpha Phi pledges at a party for the DU, Sigma Nu, and ZBT pledges; and the KD and Sig Ep pledge party.

The ADPI's held their Black Diamond closed formal Saturday and crowned Bob Zenobi "King of Diamonds." Six girls were pledged by ADPI last week: Donna Eager, Marcia Beach, Carol Dutcher, Joan Dengler, and Phyllis Hoeper, and Nancy Vance.

According to a note from the SAEs, a stag party for the pledges was held Saturday night. Quote: "Coca Cola was served, and for entertainment, Walt Disney cartoons were shown. They were very amusing."

A group of the Sig Alphas visited TU Thursday to assist in the training of their new chapter there.

Exchange dinners included MIS and Alpha Xi, ATO and Gamma Phi, Alpha Phi and Delta Tau Delta, and Phi Mu and Sigma Ep. The ChiOs had an exchange party with the ZBTs Sunday afternoon.

Phi Kappa Psi pledged Ray Newyear and Richard Stephenson this week, and MIS has initiated seven members. They are Robert Bailes, Eugene Davis, Herbert Hackenburg, Paul Hirschy, Clyde Incedon, Jerry Macke, and Clyde Weigand.

At the Z-Bar-T ranch, owned by the ZBTs, couples danced Saturday night on a hay-covered floor, sang cowboy songs to a guitar, and were served refreshments from a chuck wagon. Other parties Saturday included the Phi Psi's "Superstition" party for the DGs and a "TV" party for the Gamma Phi and ATO pledges. On Friday night the Delta Zetas became "gun molls" and the ATOs were "hoods" at a gangster party.

The Gamma Phi Beta national secretary, Mary Bromm, visited the BG chapter this week. The Gamma Phi's gave a faculty tea Sunday. Also on Sunday, ATO, with its Toledo alumni association, celebrated its Founder's Day with a buffet supper followed by a program in the Fine Arts gallery.

The KD and DU pledges are still trying to locate a Taft button to complete their scavenger hunt by Friday.
